Giving you the face & figure you've always wanted

Your face and figure are very important to you, so you want to be certain you're getting reliable care.

You can put your trust in Dr. Weiglein. He's a certified plastic surgeon who maintains accreditation, education and training in the latest techniques in cosmetic surgery. Comfort, security and a sense of competence are the subconscious impression that forms one's initial experience upon visiting The Centre for Personal Surgery. For Dr. Weiglein, the happiness and satisfaction of his patients are his number one concern.

"We like to stress that when you come to The Centre, you are embarking on a collaborative relationship with us," says Dr. Weiglein.

"This means that the needs of the patients are placed at the forefront of the entire process of patient education about the cosmetic procedures we can offer to match these needs.

It's a very personal and emotional experience."

The facility was designed and built to remove any barriers that might prevent this relationship from forming.

But what's really important is this – thousands of patients have come to count on him for making them look (and feel) more beautiful.

Dr. Otto Weiglein, BSc., MD, FRCSC

When you first come in, he'll sit down with you and discuss what you feel needs to be improved. You'll learn about all of your options, and what is involved in every procedure. You'll never be pressured into something that isn't right for you.

Mena, the Patient Coordinator, will talk to you about the costs, scheduling details and provide take-home material for you to read and consider.

You can call Mena or Sue anytime for more information. Once you decide what is best for you, your cosmetic surgery is done in Dr. Weiglein's in-office surgical suite. And you'll be glad to know that he takes extra care scheduling follow-up appointments for your maximum privacy (there's even a private entrance to his office you can use).

The surgical facility is an accredited operating room meeting strict safety standards. All anesthesia is provided for by certified Anesthetists – Dr. Weiglein's total focus is on you. You will recover comfortably under the care of Registered Nurses.

But the facility is only one reason why patients come to the Centre. Dr. Weiglein's reputation as a leader in cosmetic surgery is well known and the team members at the Centre are some of the most accomplished and experienced in their fields – they have chosen to further their careers in the cosmetic surgery industry with Dr. Weiglein.

Since the Centre is devoted entirely to cosmetic procedures, the staff is able to concentrate totally on meeting the needs of all their patients.

"It's all we do," admits Dr. Weiglein emphatically, "and it's all we want to do. I think it shows."
