DYSLEXIA

People with dyslexia are visual, multi-dimensional thinkers. They are often imaginative, highly creative and excel at hands-on learning. Because they think in pictures, it is sometimes hard for them to understand letters, numbers, symbols and written words, so they often develop problems in reading, writing, math or attention focus.

DAVIS DYSLEXIA CORRECTION

The Davis Dyslexia Correction Program® provides tools to overcome problems with reading, writing and attention. The Davis Math Correction Program® addresses math-related learning disabilities. The Davis approach is not based on tutoring or drill, but actually resolves the root causes of problems experienced by children and adults who have learning disabilities, ADD or ADHD. Results include improved reading and comprehension ability, improved handwriting, improved math ability and increased ability to pay attention – all without the use of medication. The program validates the individual's innate gifts and talents leading to significant boosts in self-esteem.
